ACCREDITATION MATTERS

The Family First Prevention Services Act has asked the field to be proactive in strengthening the role of families and keeping kids safe.

Value of CARF accreditation:

- A choice of programs to be included in survey.
- Definitive timeframes for application, survey process, and accreditation decision.
- Field-driven standards with input from persons served that reflect best practices.
- Non-prescriptive and non-inspective.
- Peer-review process and an ongoing collaborative partnership in quality improvement.
- Transparent fee structure, non-revenue based, and inclusive of travel.

FOSTER YOUTH TO INDEPENDENCE (FYI) HOUSING VOUCHER PROGRAM
Admiral B
Since 2012, the FSHO Coalition, led by ACTION Ohio, has worked in partnership with the National Center for Housing and Child Welfare (NCHCW), elected officials including foster youth champions, Reps. Turner and Bass, and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to study how to knit together existing federal programs to eliminate gaps allowing foster youth to fall into homelessness. The FSHO Coalition solution is synchronizing existing programs with predicted emancipation (the date a foster youth leaves state custody), allowing local Public Housing Authorities to provide an “on demand” FUP voucher timed for emancipation from foster care. In this way, existing federal resources, can be knitted together and used as a platform for economic success.

PRESENTERS
Jamole Callahan, Training & Development Director and Doris Edelmann, Policy Director, ACTION Ohio; Co-Presenter Ruthie White, Executive Director, NHCW

TURNING THE TABLES: APPLYING PRACTICAL NEUROSCIENCE IN WORKING WITH YOUNG ADULTS
Admiral D
The turbulence of young adulthood can be difficult to channel. When biologically programmed resistance to change, dramatic brain rewiring and the ongoing effects of emotional trauma converge – we’ve all witnessed the chaos that can ensue. Just 20 years ago, we blamed it all on hormones. Now we know that adolescence is a time of amazing neurological change and pliability. Don’t let age-old biology get in the way of progress. In this workshop, Stephanie explains 10 basic principles of adolescent neuroscience and practical, easy-to-apply best practices to harness the growing power of the young mind for good.

Stephanie Savely, BS, MBA, LYFT Learning

LEVERAGING AN ACCREDITATION MANDATE TO PROVIDE A SYSTEMATIC APPROACH TO RISK MANAGEMENT IN THE HUMAN SERVICES FIELD
Captain B
Why focus on risk? Every enterprise, no matter how big or small, must identify, evaluate and understand potential risks and develop strategies to manage and mitigate them. National accreditation gives service providers a framework to develop a robust risk management program, tied to an internal quality improvement process. Potential pitfalls for human service organizations can be related to revenue and financial controls, property, liability, human resources, service provision to vulnerable populations, reputation, governance, electronic data management, and inter-agency collaboration. Inadequate approach to risk can be due to heavy regulation and dealing with excessive resources spent on non-care issues. In this interactive session, two of the major accrediting organizations – CARF and COA – share the accreditation process, standards, and real-world examples from accredited providers of the benefits of risk management and mitigation.

PRESENTERS
Jennifer Flowers, MBA, CEO, Accreditation Guru; Co-Presenters, Leslie Ellis-Lang, CARF; and Shannon Green, VP of Accreditation, COA

SUPERVISION FOR CLINICIANS (PART 1 OF 3)
Admiral A
This workshop will meet the 3 hour supervision requirement for social workers licensed with the Ohio State Counselor and Social Worker board. This workshop will cover the 3 parts to supervision, administrative, educational, and supportive, and will talk about the traps and pitfalls of middle management. Boundaries and relationships will be discussed, as well as ways to communicate with supervisee’s in a clinical setting. Balancing clinical supervision with being a boss will also be reviewed. Must register for and attend all sessions. (Part 1 of 3; 75min)

MEASUREMENT BASED CARE AND THE SEARCH FOR QUALITY AND VALUE

Captain A
Ohio providers are taking a more comprehensive look at how to identify children and families, how we begin to determine their needs, and to incorporate the core capabilities that enable a strategy to engage, provide and measure the results. This session will explore the best ways to integrate care, engage children and families and deliver the results for better care and greater value. David Swann brings 38 years of extensive experience working with organizations to create improved systems of and foster greater access to care, including integrated and managed care organizations.

SUPPORTING PERMANENT CONNECTIONS: STRATEGIES TO ENGAGE YOUTH, FAMILIES AND COMMUNITIES
Admiral D
Youth Villages provides help for children and young people across the United States who face a wide range of emotional, mental and behavioral problems, working to find proven treatment models that strengthen family and support systems, dramatically improving long-term success. Youth Villages helped more than 25,000 young people and their families in 2019. YVLifeSet is a national program that primarily works with at-risk youth and young adults leaving foster care, juvenile justice and mental health systems. YVLifeSet provides the support and guidance needed for successful transition to adulthood. YVIntercept is an intensive in-home services program, provided in Franklin County and across the country, as an effective alternative treatment for children and youth who would otherwise be placed in foster care, residential treatment, detention centers, hospitals or other juvenile facilities. YVIntercept family intervention specialists provide systemic family therapy in order to preserve family attachment and increase problem solving skills for both youth and caregivers.

PRESENTER
Dawn Puster, LCSW, LISW-S, State Manager, Ohio, and Co-presenters from Youth Villages

OVERVIEW OHIO MODEL OF EARLY CHILDHOOD MENTAL HEALTH CONSULTATION
Admiral B
Ohio has set a benchmark for evidence based early childhood mental health consultation services. This session will provide an overview of Ohio’s Whole Child Matters ECMH program, an initiative that promotes a strong mental health foundation for children in an effort to reduce preschool and kindergarten expulsions. Services include on-site interventions and child/family-focused help to parents, teachers and staff. The map below shows the providers serving particular counties or regions. The session will present the four core service components of the statewide program, and identify the specific elements of the Ohio ECMH consultation model, including access in regions throughout the state.

PRESENTER
Valerie Alloy, Ph.D., LPC-S, OhioMHAS; and Misty Cole, MSW ECMH Master Trainer

THE PERFECT SYSTEM: Why today’s systems often fail and how Integrated Care ensures that tomorrow’s systems won’t
Captain B
In a country where 44 Million adults will experience a mental issue within a given year, 11 million people live with co-occurring mental health and substance abuse issues, and more people die from suicide than car accidents, the pressure on the behavioral health systems to deliver quality outcomes is greater than ever before. This session will explore the structure of current behavioral health systems, introduce the 6 levels of collaboration and coordination, and provide examples of integrated systems of care that are in place today along with the positive difference that these systems are making.

PRESENTER
Jayson Pratt, CEO, Path Integrated Healthcare; and Matt Conn, Director of Operations-Ohio, PATH Integrated Healthcare

THRIVING DURING MEDICAID TRANSFORMATION: MAKING MANAGED AND INTEGRATED CARE WORK FOR CHILDREN AND FAMILIES
Captain A
Managed Care in Ohio has driven providers to be more consumer-centered and address the four cornerstone questions for behavioral health care – Is this the “right service”, at the “right time in the consumer’s life”, and the “right intensity and frequency” and at the “right cost.” These are challenging and “upside down” thinking for providers. Attendees will learn about some of the best ways to prepare your organization for meeting these demands. A highly sought-after advisor, David helps organizations address the crisis in behavioral health care – Is this the “right service”, at the “right time in the consumer’s life”, and the “right intensity and frequency” and at the “right cost.” These are challenging and “upside down” thinking for providers. Attendees will learn about some of the best ways to prepare your organization for meeting these demands. A highly sought-after advisor, David helps organizations address the crisis in psychiatric service capacity through more efficient use of E&M codes, expanding behavioral healthcare to the Medicare population and helping providers in managed Medicaid environments.

TIPS: TRAUMA INFORMED PSYCHOEDUCATION FOR PROVIDERS
Admiral B

Our increased understanding of the impact of trauma, resiliency and recovery helps us to be intentional about our interventions, but we might not be as clear about how or what to teach our clients about it all. This workshop will be didactic, sharing current information to help clarify information and give a common base of understanding. We will explore what and how to share with clients and families. We’ll share youth and family friendly information and materials to educate clients about trauma, focus them on resilience and de-stigmatize their current condition and their histories. Together we’ll expand our toolkit of resources, rehearse and role play psychoeducation and explore ways to make the learning as experiential and engaging as possible.

PRESENETER
Bobbi Beale, Psy.D., Senior Research Associate, Case Western Reserve University, Center for Innovative Practices

TRAUMA-INFORMED SCHOOLS: THIS SHIFT TAKES TIME
Admiral D

Franklin County Families and Children First Council worked intensively for two years with two school districts in Franklin County to increase the use of trauma-informed strategies throughout nine buildings. Through professional development and coaching, each school has made significant changes in practice, policy and outcomes for students, moving from trauma-informed to trauma-competent. This presentation shares the change process and coaching model used to help create a sustainable culture shift toward trauma competence, aligning with core concepts of brain science. We’ll share the implementation process, lessons learned, and outcomes achieved in the Building Better Lives initiative. This session will provide attendees with proven ideas to implement in their organizational change process toward trauma-competent practices.

PRESENTERS
Jesse Schroeder, MSW, LISW-S, Building Better Lives Deputy Director of Training and Program Development, and Debbie Holycross, Building Better Lives Deputy Director of Grant Management and Program Development, Franklin County Family and Children First Council (FCFCFC)

ACTIVATING PARTNERS IN SOCIAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH TO DRIVE BETTER RESULTS
Captain B

This workshop will explore working with community partners and how this helps everyone get upstream in meeting the needs of children and families. The first part of the session will explore how states are setting up efforts on social determinants of health, the conditions in which people are born, grow, live, work and age. These circumstances are shaped by the distribution of money, power and resources at global, national and local levels. The second half of the session will involve an Ohio Medicaid Managed Care Panel discussion, focused on how Ohio’s MCP’s are working on social determinant of health issues and what tools are being used.

PRESENTERS
Megan Lam, Director, General Management, Community & State Administration, The North Carolina Experience; Panel, United Healthcare Community Plan and Ohio Medicaid Managed Care Plan Panel

CLINICALLY INTEGRATED NETWORKS AND THE VALUE EQUATION
Captain A

Clinically integrated networks, with their potential benefits and implications for behavioral health organizations are a newer way to improve value in healthcare by integrating and collaborating care across many settings. A rush of development to develop coordinated networks of provider organizations, hospitals, sub-acute care facilities and clinicians, has led health system executives to invest substantial financial and human capital to set up infrastructure and operating processes. We’ll discuss current and future challenges for clinically integrated networks such as payment reform, providing collaborative and integrated care and relating to Managed Medicare Organizations. Hear from this expert who has provided comprehensive strategic planning services for more than 200 organizations, with a focus on performance improvement and contracting.

THANK YOU TO OUR OCTOBER 8 KEYNOTE SPONSOR

Youth Villages offers a continuum of evidence- and research-based programs, including residential treatment programs in Tennessee and Georgia (TRICARE approved), foster care, adoption, crisis services and its two national models: YVIntercept™, which offers intensive in-home services, and YVLifeSet™, which gives former foster youth a good start on successful adulthood. The organization has been recognized by the Harvard Business School and U.S. News & World Report, and was identified by The White House as one of the nation’s most promising results-oriented nonprofit organizations.
Erhardt Preitauer joined CareSource in May 2018 bringing two decades of transformational leadership and government-sponsored health plan expertise to the role. Erhardt is an accomplished health care executive with a track record of driving significant growth, profitability, innovation and operational excellence. He has extensive experience in building and leading mission-driven health care organizations.

Prior to joining CareSource, he led Horizon New Jersey Health, the state’s largest Medicaid plan, as CEO. During his tenure, the organization served 1 million members and was recognized as one of the fastest growing Medicaid plans in the country growing its revenue from $2.2 billion to $6.3 billion in the span of three years. Erhardt is a decorated champion of technology and innovation in long term care. Under his direction, the plan earned a #3 ranking in the 2016 InformationWeek Elite 100 and a 2015 Digital Edge 25 distinction.

His career includes leadership positions with a number of prominent health care organizations including Aetna, WellCare Health Plans and UnitedHealth Group.

Erhardt graduated from the University of Nevada with a Bachelor of Science in finance and economics and also holds a Master of Business Administration degree from Penn State University. He is active in the health care industry and recently served as chairman of the board of directors for the Medicaid Health Plans of America and as a board member of the Institute for Medicaid Innovation.

In June 2019, Erhardt was named by Glassdoor as one of the highest-rated CEOs in the country, ranking #20 on their annual list based on employee reviews. Preitauer was also recognized by Medicaid Health Plans of America in October 2018 with the Joy Wheeler Leadership Award after helping guide that organization to become a leading voice for Medicaid health plans and the beneficiaries they serve.

Jerry Milner, D.S.W., brings 43 years of practice, management and technical assistance experience in child welfare at the local, state and federal levels.

Jerry began his career as a case carrying social worker, served as the state child welfare agency director in Alabama, and previously worked for the Children’s Bureau designing and implementing the CFSR. Immediately prior to his appointment, he served as the Vice President for Child Welfare Practice at the Center for the Support of Families.

At the Center for the Support of Families, he assisted state and local child welfare agencies in evaluating their child welfare programs, and designed and implemented improvements in practice, policy and procedures. His work includes the use of data, implementation science principles, development of practice models, systematic problem solving and the direct provision of technical assistance to achieve organizational changes and practice improvements in child welfare.

Dr. Milner comes to ACF with direct state-level experience as well. During his tenure as state child welfare director in Alabama, he led efforts to reform child welfare practice according to system of care principles. In addition to those positions, Dr. Milner worked in the Children’s Bureau to implement and manage the Child and Family Service Reviews of state child welfare services programs.

He received his undergraduate degree in political science and graduate degrees from the University of Alabama.

STUDENT WELLNESS AND SUCCESS: EACH CHILD, OUR FUTURE
Admiral B

Each Child, Our Future, Ohio’s strategic plan for education, seeks to ensure each student is challenged, prepared and empowered for his or her future by way of an excellent pre-kindergarten-grade 12 education. Ohio’s schools can succeed by meeting the needs of the whole child – the physical, social, emotional and intellectual aspects of the child’s well-being. With House Bill 166, passed in July 2019, Ohio invested $675 million to help districts and schools support their students’ academic achievement through mental health counseling, wraparound services, mentoring and after-school programs. School districts will work with local organizations to determine community needs and resources, so they can use the state dollars to make the greatest impact on students’ lives. The Ohio Department of Education will use the funds to help districts plan and launch these student wellness initiatives. By knocking down barriers to school success, we can give all our students brighter futures.

COMPLEX ADOLESCENT INTERSECTIONS: ADHD, DEVELOPMENTAL TRAUMA, AND SUBSTANCE USE
Captain A

Adolescence is a strikingly unique period of development full of physical, social and cognitive changes. The appearance and expressions of these changes can foreshadow emerging adulthood or be reminiscent of fading childhood, though neither of these comparisons is fair or accurate. The maturing and interacting components that converge to create this unique period may increase impulsivity, inconsistency and risk taking, but also represent great opportunity for meaningful and impactful change. Within the framework of this developmental understanding, the potentially confusing overlap of symptoms and expressions of ADHD, developmental trauma and substance use are explored. This introductory discussion will briefly outline symptoms and expressions of each area of difficulty separately, with natural evolution into the guided recognition for the broad overlap of very similar expressions of each area. While the importance of careful, differential understanding is emphasized, hope for change within this very plastic developmental period is infused throughout.

FAMILY FIRST PREVENTION SERVICES ACT WITH OHIO DEPT OF JOB & FAMILY SERVICES

Admiral A

The Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) is a part of the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018 (H.R. 1892) and includes long-overdue historic reforms to help keep children safely with their families and avoid the traumatic experience of entering foster care. The Act emphasizes the importance of children growing up in families and helps ensure children are placed in the least restrictive, most family-like setting appropriate to their special needs when foster care is necessary. This session will include a panel that will give a brief overview of the provisions of the act, discuss the road map that has been developed by a large group of cross-system partners to ensure decisions are made timely and take into account stakeholder needs, and talk about next steps moving toward implementation.

FUNCTIONAL FAMILY THERAPY (FFT)

Admiral B

Functional Family Therapy was founded in the 1970s by Dr. James F. Alexander. Since then, the FFT model has received international recognition as a Blueprint model for its outcomes in helping troubled youth and their families to overcome delinquency, substance abuse, and violence and it has been listed on the Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse as a Well Supported Model for use with the FFPSA. It is a short-term treatment strategy that is built on a foundation of respect of individuals, families and cultures, but that includes powerful treatment strategies that pave the way for motivating individuals and families to become more adaptive and successful in their own lives. Participants will recognize the value of working within a family system to address the issues youth face, as well as appreciate the benefits of working within a model guided by research.

THE FAMILY PRESERVATION CRISIS NURSERY: an effective service model to meet FFPSA goals and fill the gap in the continuum of prevention services in Ohio

Admiral B

Providence House is Ohio’s first and one of the nation’s longest operating crisis nurseries. Located in Cleveland, Ohio, they use a multi-generation approach to prevent child abuse and neglect and provide comprehensive care when families face major crises that restrict or prevent their ability to provide for their child’s safety and basic needs. As one of only three crisis nurseries in Ohio, Providence House recognizes that the Family First Prevention Services Act is a significant opportunity for communities throughout Ohio. Many leaders, advocates, organizations, and child welfare agencies in the state have contacted Providence House in recent years with question of how to get a similar service in their community. As an experienced partner who has been available to help others get started, this session will highlight the coaching and support available to help put the rights steps together to launch a new family preservation focused crisis nursery and the tailored resources to improve program delivery and outcomes.

PRESENTERS
Annette Iwamoto, Strategic Initiatives Manager, and Natalie A. Leek-Nelson, CEO and President, Providence House, Inc.
