

Matthew Scruggs

Director of Philanthropy and Brand Management

The Village Network

He's an average guy living his best small-town life. After a career in corporate America, Matthew transitioned to The Village Network to help people understand mental health needs and stop the stigma. He uses humor to mask emotions but is unafraid to confront his feelings. Matthew and his husband, Johnathan, are proud parents to a pug named Nikki. They love to garden, and Nikki enjoys standing on the flowers.